Rollout postponed due to problem with crawler-transporter

STS-108 crew to discuss mission

▲ Shuttle Update: Columbia's rollout to Launch Pad 39A in preparation for mission STS-109 was postponed yesterday due to a steering problem in the crawler-transporter. The problem – a faulty bearing in the steering linkage of Power Truck Drive D – was detected before the C-T left the VAB. Rollout has been rescheduled for today, beginning at 6 a.m.

▲ Mission Presentation: The STS-108 Crew will be at KSC today, Jan. 24, to talk with employees about their mission. Their presentation will be held from 1- 2 p.m. in the Mission Briefing Room located in the O&C Building. This will be their only presentation to employees.

◆ Successful Aging: What You Need To Know To Be Fit Over Fifty -- Join Kay Murray and the Fit Over Fifty Exercise Class to discuss personal experiences on how to age successfully through diet, exercise and stress management. Murray and guests will describe their own experiences in having a heart attack, preventing a heart attack, and how to stay on the road of wellness. The class is being held Wednesday, Jan. 30, at 11:30 in room 1055 of the O&C. Please call the O&C Fitness Center at 867-7829 for more information.

◆ New Web Site Offers Money-Saving Tips to Homeowners -- Thinking of replacing an existing furnace or central air conditioner? Is the existing system costing more to run than it has to? To help homeowners
